Proceeds from "Herd of Buffalo", designed by Creative Craft students, were used to purchase a large metal work of art for the high school staircase representing our Iroquois Chief.

Louise Nevelson Inspired Sculpture

Students in Mrs. Buttino's and Mrs. Campbell's Creative Crafts classes created a triangular, free standing sculpture that will find a permanent home in the High School Library. The frame of the sculpture was carefully crafted by the maintenance staff, and stands over 7 feet tall and 3 feet wide. The art work was inspired by the artist Louise Nevelson, who created massive works of art made out of wood, and assembled in an Abstract manner. Individual students each created an 8x10 wood composition that they sanded and stained. The individual art works were then put together to make one fantastic creation that makes quite an impression. The Art room proves, once again, that a team approach can really impact how we see the world and make a difference.
